

White House marks it's 21st birthday ...

THERE was a 21st Birthday celebration on Saturday for The White House Holistic Health and Beauty Clinic.

The occasion was marked with a very English vintage tea party outside their premises in Upper High Street, Thame.

Owner Amanda Supple said: "It was a truly wonderful sunny day, with delicious cupcakes, scrumptious scones with jam and clotted cream, served with English tea from vintage china cups and saucers - all very proper."

The clinic raffle, that included vouchers for acupuncture, bower therapy, reflexology, massage and beauty treatments raised over £100 for Parkinson's UK and the Jane Ashley Women's Cancer Centre.
